

What is a family tree for?

Family trees are designed to give you a very clear picture of how people are related to each other. It can give you a lot of information on a family including births, deaths and marriages.

- How many generations of the family were lock keepers?

.....
.....

- Why do you think that some of the women had different surnames?

.....
.....

- How old was Dorothy's grandfather when he died?

.....
.....
