

You have been asked by the Regional Park to help design a display for the visitors' centre about people working in the linen industry. Draw the scene that will form the background for the display, add notes to help the designer and label any parts you think need to be highlighted.

Now list some of the historical evidence from your notes or carry out some research to find out what you can use to make the scene as true to life as possible.

What sounds could be played in the background to help the display come alive?

Are there any real life objects we could include to help the display become more lifelike?

What would you write on the information panel in front of the display to help people don't know anything about the linen industry?

From all the evidence gathered what do you think it would have been like to work in the mills?
